Join us and witness the annual return of over 20,000 California Gray Whales on their 20,000 mile "Grand Circle" coastal tour of Alaska.

Give into "Spring Fever" and join the crew of Major Marine Tours for a day that is sure to become one of your fondest Alaska memories.

Come along as we head out to the opening of Resurrection Bay to watch Gray Whales as they begin their annual migration north from Baja California to their summer feeding waters in the Bering Sea. Gray Whales travel by "line of sight", which means that they travel close to the coastline on this amazing journey.

These waters are also home to Stellar sea lions, Dall's porpoise, sea otters, eagles, puffins and many other types of marine birds. You might even be treated to sightings of Orca (killer whales) or Humpback whales. This is a day that you and your family will remember for a lifetime.
